

Will the Real Jesus Christ Please Step Forward

5/14/2014

Dear Friends, Brethren, and Saints in Christ,

We certainly hope this letter finds you in a state of mind which is free from, and above, the corruption of this evil age. Only by the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ can we be partakers of those green pastures high on the slopes of Mount Zion. It is there that we find refuge from the ever growing darkness encompassing the world below which we must live in here at the end of the age. It is an age abounding in falsehoods, deceits, and cunningly devised fables designed to dissuade even the elect of God, those called out of unbelief and given the ability to understand the mystery of godliness in all its fullness. So many of the Prophets longed to know what we have been granted, to not only know, but to comprehend as well.

With that great gift of our calling comes responsibility and accountability to the plan of salvation and the growth of the family of God the Father. We are to be developing a very intimate relationship with our beloved Savior/Husband the only begotten of the Father for He will do the final choosing as to whether He believes we can be an eternal helpmate functioning in the household responsibilities that are appointed to a bride, wife, mother. Only after the number of the bride has been completed will the plan move on to the next phase.

Unfortunately we live in an age of such tremendous falsehoods and distractions that some that have been called to this glorious calling are turning to another Christ, even though there is no other.

I think it is time to have a heart to heart about who Christ is and how He functioned in the past, present, and future. Unless we have an intimate relationship; one on one with our Savior/Husband, we can and probably will be led away after another who is being depicted more and more in this tormented world as a fuzzy, feely, touchy, little lord Jesus characterization, which Satan has so cleverly and cunningly sold to the Christian world.

My Savior and Husband is not a wimp! Never has been and never will be! He is the author of creation as the scriptural pattern throughout the entirety of the Bible teaches us. We have several articles on our site which go into great detail as to this understanding. They give scriptural life to them. They tell us who Christ was, is, and will be. ("Who is God and did Jesus Christ pre-exist?" and "The one-god being doctrine is a Perverted Gospel about Christ")

Let's take some time here at the beginning to review a few of these incredible truths so we do not lose sight of them, for some are wandering astray after a fable of a false christ. We must never let our guard down as to this seemingly impossible event for those who have been enlightened. We are forewarned in Matthew 24: 4-5, "And Jesus answered and said to them, Take heed that no one deceives you. For many will come in My name, saying I am the Christ and will deceive many.” These deceivers claim to know Christ and are doing everything in their power to delude us into following another christ, one who is not recognizable in scripture but all the same being accepted by many. It is very disheartening to see brethren stumbling into the way of a false christ. My Savior and Husband is a mighty Being, the only begotten Son of the Father, and He has existed from eternity as one of the Elohim. As Paul instructs us in Hebrews the 7th chapter He was, “without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but (until He was) likened to the Son of God.”

This awesome eternal Being gave all that He was up, to become a sacrifice and an example for His creation. He emptied Himself, divested Himself of all His eternal glory to enter into a new relationship with His eternal companion and with Their creation. This awesome truth as to the mystery of Godliness is absolutely staggering when we come to understand that He, They, did it for us!

Philippians 2:3-8, “Let nothing be done through selfish ambition or conceit, (that is where Satan stumbled and fell) but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself. Let each of you look out not only for his own interests but also the interests of others.

Let this mind (the one we just read about) be in you which was also in Christ Jesus, who, being in the form of God (a God Being, Elohim), did not consider it robbery to be equal with God (the Father), but emptied Himself (of all His eternal glory) taking the form of a servant and coming in the likeness of man. And being found in appearance of a man (exactly the same nature), He humbled Himself (unlike Satan) and became obedient to death, even the death of the cross.”

We must not be ashamed or deluded or dismayed in any way, shape, or form as to the true gospel about Christ. It is good news from start to finish, even His gruesome death on our behalf.

Many come preaching in His name emphasizing good works but clouding it all up with the image and characterization of a false wimpy christ. That is simply suppressing the truth in unrighteousness. Please do not become futile in your thoughts on this, always be focused who your Savior/Husband is and how He functioned for we are to walk, to do, what He did. Thus we have Satan trying to deceive us into following a different christ and thus not sustaining and growing in an intimate relationship with the true Christ. Many today are changing the glory of an incorruptible Savior to the image of a wimpy, emotional, corruptible, man. Once again please do not exchange the truth of who Christ was, is, and will be, for a Satan spawned lie.

The Being we know as Jesus Christ, and for that matter by many other names, had been without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life; gave that all up because of the love He had for His creation. It was at that moment in time that He and the Being we now know as the Father entered into a new relationship. No longer would they be on an equal plain. The Word humbled Himself before His eternal friend and all of creation to live as a man and to direct all glory to the Father. That awesome act condemned Satan the devil and destroyed his lie to the angels who had followed him in rebellion against the Elohim. From that time forward the Word would be known as the son of God the Father and thus His only begotten son, for it was the Word who had done all the creating up to that point in agreement with His eternal companion.

Paul continually instructs us in such things, as to the Word becoming or being likened to the Son of God. That was a new relationship between them. That is why we read in Hebrews 1:5; "You are My Son. Today have I begotten You (What day? The day He was begotten in Mary) and I will be to Him a Father, and He will be to Me a Son."

So the day the Word emptied Himself of His eternal glory was the same day His eternal companion begot Him in the virgin Mary. On that day, and at that very moment in time, the two Elohim entered into a father/son relationship. Please just think on this for a moment, actually meditate on it often. The Being we know as the Word and the Being we now know as the Father entered into a relationship on behalf of Their creation that had the possibility of Them being separated forever. The Word emptied Himself of His eternal glory! He had to do that to become a man! As a man He was tempted just as we are as Paul clearly tells us in Hebrews 2:18 and 4:15. That means He could have sinned and thus that sin would have separated Him from the Father. Can we begin to understand the magnitude of His sacrifice? Do we understand that sacrifice also impacted the Father as nothing else had in all of eternity? And we think we make sacrifices from time to time. Just think of the mind that was in the Word that He would do so and esteem the Father better than Himself to all creation. The humility of such a thing will never be matched but all the same we are to follow it in our daily lives. There is a caveat to this understanding however. We do not allow ourselves to be flooded with false humility which we will address later.

We can read about this great Godly pattern in many places in scripture but none sums up the beauty and totality of it as does John 1:1-14.

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God (the Being who became the Father) and the Word was God (Elohim). He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through Him (the Word), and without Him nothing was made. In Him was life (eternal) and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness and the darkness did not comprehend it (Satan and his fallen angels). There was a man sent from God (from both of Them, for this was 6 months prior to the Word emptying Himself) whose name was John. This man came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all through him might believe. He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light, the true Light which gives light to every man who comes into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, and the world did not know Him.

He came to His own (first covenant bride; Jews/Israel) and His own did not receive Him. But as many as received Him (the Gentiles) to them He gave the right (authority) to become children of God, to those who believe (to entrust ones spiritual wellbeing) in His name: Who was not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God (He was completely reliant on the Fathers help to make it through).

And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father (because all creation had taken place through Him, the Word, up to that point) full of grace and truth.”

This dear saints is a brief review into the mystery of Godliness as spoken to us by Paul in 1 Timothy 3:16.

“And without controversy (there was no controversy or question in Paul’s mind for the scriptural pattern was very clear) great is the mystery of Godliness: God was manifested in the flesh (the Word), justified in the spirit, seen by angels (since their creation), preached among the Gentiles, believed on in the world, and received up to glory.” Christ debunked all of Satan’s vain claims which led to many of the angels being deceived.

So what glory did He receive?

John 17:4-5; “I have glorified You on the earth, I have finished the work You have given Me to do. And now, O Father, glorify Me together with Yourself, with the glory which I had with You before the world was.”

Once again a very brief review of the scriptural pattern of Godliness preserved for us here at the end of the age so we will be without excuse as to our understanding it in its simplicity with the help of Gods spirit. However it is hidden as a mystery from the vast majority of mankind at this time for very important reasons that God has determined must be in place for the sequence of events as to the plan of salvation.

The Being we know as Jesus Christ was according to very clear scripture the member of the Elohim who interacted in person with mankind and more specifically with Israel. The Being we now know as Father was in the background for most of the time but not all of it. There are many scriptures which teach us that.

John 6:44-46; “No one can come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him; and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught by God (actually Yehovah). Therefore everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to Me. Not that anyone (man) has seen the Father, except He who is from God; He has seen the Father,”

Matthew 11:27; “All things have been delivered to Me by My Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father. Nor does anyone know the Father except the Son, and he to whom the Son wills to reveal Him.”

Christ makes it clear in the scriptures that the Father interacts with mankind by His spirit and through the Son. This is all very important and very relevant to understanding who the real Jesus Christ is, was, and will be. We are to follow His example in life as to how He walked on earth in righteousness.

The apostle Paul did not want us to be ignorant as to whom Christ had been under the terms of the first covenant.

1 Corinthians 10:1-4;

“Moreover brethren, I do not want you to be unaware that all our fathers were under the cloud, all passed through the sea, all ate the same spiritual food, and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Christ.”

There are many more scriptures which address this pattern that Christ was the interactive God of the Old Covenant scriptures. The studies I mentioned earlier are loaded with the scriptures which form that pattern. Paul also instructs us in Hebrews 13:8 that, “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday (First Covenant), today (Second Covenant), and forever (The Kingdom).” With that Biblical truth and fact in mind let’s see what some of His activities and commanded actions where in the First Covenant times. We will see He is not the author of fuzzy, feely, and touchy (FFT) emotionalism which is being passed off today as the love of God. No, He is not some wimpy little lord Jesus giving the peace symbol to all and tip toeing through the tulips. He is a compassionate loving Creator who knew He would ultimately be laying down His eternal glory to become our Savior and thus our life for He conquered death for us. That is one brave and courageous individual as well as being a humble one. He knew before the foundation of the world that it might come to His ultimate sacrifice for us. The love of the Father and the Son for Their creation is beyond our comprehension as men to understand and only through the giving of the holy spirit to us can we even begin to do so. That is why mankind without the spirit of God dwelling in them or leading them is so easily convinced that Christ was full of the fuzzy, feely, touchies and not capable of hurting a fly or saying a word against anyone in spite of the very clear scriptures of God. That is why many today are offended when a saint, a follower of the true Christ, stands up and speaks the truth about others actions who claim to be followers of Christ and in many instances even leaders who profess to be in the body Christ. We will see where Christ and the apostles did the very same thing, that is, expose darkness in whatever form regardless of the orator or originator of it. In fact the scriptural pattern and command is so very evident it is hard to believe that one with Gods spirit could become so estranged from Christ that they could come to believe He would not ever do such a thing.

Those who are called by the Father are expected to have a very clear understanding of who the Son is so that the Son can have an intimate relationship with them. This is so very important because He at this time is deciding, choosing, judging, who will qualify to be His eternal helpmate in the household of the Father and to assist in the continuance of the establishing of the family of God through the plan of salvation. Not everyone who starts on that journey will complete it.

Matthew 7:21-23;

“Not everyone who says to Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name? And then I will declare to them, I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness.”

With comments like that coming from Christ I would imagine we can safely say there is no perception of a little lord Jesus in them. The false christ would be saying to them in an emotional outburst of blathering words and tears, that it’s okay, everyone can come play with me in the kingdom just come as you are. But many today would condemn the true Christ for behaving so rudely, intolerantly, and mean, based on His forgoing statement.

Just think here in Matthew we see many coming to Him all puffed up talking about, and actually reciting to Him, all the good things they did for Him, so pay up! There obviously is a big disconnect going on between them, for Christ says He never knew them and thus they never really knew Him either. Then He calls their works of greatness; lawlessness. That’s way over the top for the fuzzy, feely, touchy, love types. All these folks were concentrating on the things they did for Him. Big error to say that to a mighty God!

In Luke 6:46 Christ says; “But why do you call Me Lord, Lord, and do not do the things which I say?” Now that is not a good beginning for a lasting intimate relationship which is intended to become an eternal one.

1 John 2:3-6;

“Now by this we know that we know Him, if we keep His commandments (The rules of the Fathers household). He who says, I know Him, and does not keep His commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him (nothing of the FFT’s to be found there). But whoever keeps His word truly the love of God is being perfected in him. By this we know that we are in Him. He who says he abides in Him ought himself also to walk just as He walked.”

There’s a big ouch! Two really big lessons to be found here. The first is that if we keep the word of God and specifically His commandments then we will know both the Father and the Son and His love will be perfected in us. So here we are taught the love of God is directly tied to the commandments of God. You know the ones; do not commit adultery, do not murder, do not lie, and so on. So the love of God is directly tied to obedience! Imagine that. The FFT group is dismayed by that teaching. We are told without conducting ourselves in that understanding and obedience not only will we not know Them, but we are liars to boot devoid of the truth.

John 15:9-10;

“As the Father loved Me, I also have loved you; abide in My love. If you keep My commandments, you will abide in My love, just as I have kept My Fathers commandments and abide in His love.” Sounds like a pattern to me. How does Paul put it? “Imitate me as I imitate Christ.”

So here we once again have a scriptural pattern with conditions. What are the conditions? Obedience to commandment keeping and following the example Christ set. Of course where there are conditions there are always consequences as well. The Father and the Son are not respecters of persons. Scriptures instruct us to not show partiality between a rich man and a poor man but to judge on the basis of what is right and what is wrong. Oh no! Where's the love in that! Well that is exactly what the FFT crowd is all about. They are very partial to a sense of greater morality and mercy than that of God. The Corinthian Church fell victim to that very same thing when they allowed a man who was conducting a very vile act with his father's wife to be numbered among them. What was Paul's reaction? 1 Corinthians 5:5; "deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus." He then scolded them and told them, "Your glorying is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump?"

1 Corinthians 5:1-5;

"It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and such sexual immorality as is not even named among the Gentiles – that a man has his father's wife! (That is exactly one of the filthy outcomes of the one-god doctrine as we will see momentarily) And you are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he who has done this deed might be taken away from among you. For I indeed, as absent in the body but present in the spirit, have already judged him who has done this deed as though I was present. In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when you are gathered together, along with my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus."

Lots to learn here from Paul and the actions of the Corinthians so let's sum some of it up. This member of the congregation had a sexual relationship with his father's wife. Now that could be his mother but let's say it was with a second wife of the father who was not his biological mother. Still a sin as scripture bears out! The one-god doctrine claims that Christ was not the God of the first covenant. That covenant was a marriage covenant as we have articulated with scripture upon scripture in articles on the website. We also clearly show that Christ in fact was that God/Elohim who was married to Israel and Judah. In the second covenant scriptures we see that Christ is going to marry spiritual Israel in a future time and that he is betrothed to her at this time. We also show from Romans that He was the God of the first Covenant who had been married to Israel and Judah and how Paul was instructing the Jews at Rome that since He died they were released from the law of the husband and could marry again. This is all very important to the plan of salvation and Satan wants to destroy this knowledge. If Christ was not the God of the first marriage covenant then He in marrying Israel and Judah who were now betrothed to Him under the second marriage covenant terms would be committing the same filthy sin that the guy in Corinth had. He would have a relationship with His Father's wife! Give me a break folks. That is just one of the filthy lies housed in the one-god doctrine circulating in many sectors of the body today. Pure filth! How did Paul say it should be dealt with? Publically, in the wide open, so everyone would see and learn when they all came together. This was not a small thing to Paul. It was a detestable thing which brought shame to the house of God. That is why I am so outspoken about this filthy one-god being doctrine. I have followed Paul's instructions to the Corinthians as to publically exposing it for what it is and from separating myself from those who teach it, and in some cases from those who tolerate it among themselves. To allow such a filthy premise to exist overtly or covertly among the body is flat out wrong as scripture details over and over again. Think you have more understanding, mercy, and compassion, than God? That is puffed up and laden with sin and will spread throughout the body with devastating effects. Such a filthy premise as what took place in Corinth and being assigned to the Father and the Son is no different than the filth of homosexuality. In addressing such filth and other sins in Romans the first chapter Paul makes the following summation in verse 32. "Who know the righteous judgments of God, that those who practice such things are worthy of death, not only do the same but also approve of those who practice them." If we do not openly oppose such filth then we are guilty of the same thing for we approve (tolerate) those who practice them. That's a bad thing folks. We are not to approve of such things in any way, shape, or form. Either they leave or we do. The one-god being doctrine is filthy to the core and an incredible deception of the devil. Our opposition to it should be shouted from the roof tops. I have been condemned by the purveyors and teachers of it and that is meaningless to me. I will continue to expose such filth for what it is regardless of the package it comes in or the clever coating it is given.

Satan is very clever and cunning in his approach to deception. The many who say, Lord, Lord will be getting a big surprise if they have not sought out a relationship of obedience to Christ's commandments and thus the way He Himself functions. The lesson of Matthew 25:31-46 resonates here especially in verse 44.

"Then they also will answer Him, saying, Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty, or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?"

Verses 45-46 give His non little lord Jesus reply. They did not recognize Him, those who were truly a part of His body, because they set the standards as to who was called and who was not. If you were not one of theirs you were not of Christ for they perceive themselves as the gateway to Him. They defined the criteria of acceptance not Christ. Please be mindful that can happen in both extremes; the elitist dominion folks, and the false humility FFT folks.

We have read earlier that the love of God, the perfecting of it, is intricately tied to keeping the commandments of God. They are the Father's household rules of conduct. So is there a biblical description of what the love of God is in its rawest form?

1 John 4:8;

"He who does not love does not know God, for God is love."

:16, "And we have known and believed the love that God has for us. God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in Him."

5:2-3; "By this we know that we love the children of God, (our brothers and sisters called by the Father) when we love God and keep His commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments. And His commandments are not burdensome."

How simple is that; biblical love = commandment keeping without reservation or regret.

The apostle Paul declares to us in Romans 13 that "love is the fulfilling of the law." The context is that of a neighbor and not letting harm come to him and he references commandments 6-10.

The question then begs to be answered, if we let our neighbor or brother suffer harm are we unaccountable for doing so? Not according to God. We are actually our brother's keeper and as such if we see someone who is, or about to harm him, we have a command to step in. What do you do folks? Do you act like a little wimp and cover yourself with a basket or do you speak boldly to the one who is about to cause harm? Paul tells us in Ephesians 6:10;

"Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might."

You are all familiar with the context in which he says this. It is all about fighting spiritual battles and putting on the whole armor of God to do so. Part of that armor is a sword. Do you think for one minute it is just for show? We are to be bold in the word of God. Do we know how to use that sword to defend ourselves or another? There are some in the body who would not touch the sword of truth to do so. They are the FFT types who tell us to turn the other cheek. They are clueless to the lesson of Christ's simple comment on doing so. They claim we are ungodly if we in fact use the sword along with the rest of the armor in preaching the gospel. The whole gospel of God.

Look how Paul sums this lesson up. Verses 17-20;

"And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God; praying always with all prayer and supplication (to be able to use them when needed) in the spirit, being watchful to this end with all perseverance and supplication for all the saints, and for me, that all utterance may be given to me, that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel, for which I am in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak."

Paul didn't shy away and hide under a basket when confronted by evil works of another. He all the more spoke out against it and used the word of God to do so regardless of who it was or what the consequences to him would be. Why? Because evil is evil regardless of what package it shows up in. Paul loved God and the brethren to the point he would lay down his life let alone suffer beatings and other such behavior from others.

So in summing up what we have seen we have read that God is love, the very source of it. The bible boldly defines that love is the keeping of the commandments and the premise for us to be abiding in Christ and He is in us. No other way works folks. That is the bottom line. So let's see the God of love in action. The world does not get this but the called and chosen of God should. Joshua 8:1-2; Then the Lord said to Joshua: Do not be afraid or dismayed; take all the people of war with you, and arise, go up to Ai. See, I have given into your hand the king of Ai, his people, his city, and his land. And you shall do to Ai and the king as you did to Jericho and the king. Only its spoil and its cattle you shall take for booty for yourselves. Lay ambush (sneak attack, not fair) for the city behind it.” What had they done to Jericho?

Joshua 6:21,

“And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, ox and sheep and donkey, with the edge of the sword.”

Want something a little softer?

Exodus 21:20-21

“If a man beats his servant or maidservant with a rod, so that he dies under his hand, he shall surely be punished. Notwithstanding, if he remains alive for a day or two, he shall not be punished; for he is his property.”

I ask; are you dismayed at this? If you are then you have a stumbling block before you and you will need to come to grips with it. I can recite scripture after scripture where the Being we know as The Word, who became Jesus Christ did this very same thing over and over in His relationship with Israel. We need to understand those types of actions from the viewpoint of a loving God are for the wellbeing of His creation. If we do not understand why, then we can fall to the illusion of the little lord Jesus characterization flooding Christianity today. Satan has a reason for convincing people to believe that illusion. Christ is coming back to make war! When He does, many will think it can't be Christ for He would never do such a thing!!! Remember we are talking about the Being, the loving God, who killed all of mankind except 8 people by drowning them. Do we understand why? Because God will not tolerate evil to overcome His creation. It is better off not existing than to exist full of evil. Evil promulgates evil! 1 Corinthians 15: 33-34;

“Do not be deceived. Evil company corrupts good habits. Awake to righteousness and do not sin, for some do not have the knowledge of God. I speak this to your shame.” Very easy to understand with the spirit of God assisting us. That is why mainstream Christianity usually does not turn to the First Covenant scriptures except for tithing. They do not recognize the God of the first covenant scriptures as the Father or the Son of the second covenant scriptures because of the incredible job of deception Satan has pulled off on it. They have believed the lie and unfortunately he is making headway into some who profess to be begotten of God and in the body of Christ. Satan is actually making headway into dumbing down brethren who should know better. He has convinced mainstream Christianity that the God of the Old Testament was vicious and bloodthirsty; for both the blood of man as well as the blood of “poor innocent” animals. Just think how harsh this God was who had tens of millions of animals sacrificed and burned and called the resulting smoke; a sweet smelling aroma. Can you give an answer to this if challenged by one of the FFT crowd? Or are you dismayed by it without words to give an answer? The world certainly is, yet they will muster most of mankind to kill all those who believe the truth! How deluded is that?

2 Corinthians 2:14-17.

“Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place. For we are to God (the Father) the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing. To the one we are the aroma of death to death, and the other the aroma of life to life. And who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as so many peddling (adulterating for gain) the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as from God, we speak in the sight of God in Christ.”

The time we live in is not just assigned to us to receive the gift of salvation, eternal life; it is also a very special time to qualify for a special function in the household of God the Father. We are called at this time, predestined as the scriptures call it, to be judged on our own personal works for the humble function of the bride of Christ, the responsibilities of the mother in the household of the Father. Some may think of that as an unachievable high and mighty thing. I do not, for Christ tells us He will finish what He has started in us. Some look at it as a function of great power and authority. I do not. If you think it is such a thing just ask a mother with a household of children if she thinks her job is full of glory, power, and authority. Ask her to define it in one word for you and she will tell you “work” lots of work. It is a function which emphasizes the denial of the self quite often because of the overwhelming need to serve the rest of the family. That is a labor of true love when placed in a spiritual perspective. Do not be taken captive into the lie of the great ones who try to subjugate you to themselves. They make every attempt to separate you and me from the true work we have been given by inserting their mantra of doing “the work.” They try to convince us that they are doing the work of God through their organizations. It comes in many forms but the bottom line is it is a false work, one that Christ will not recognize when He returns and will rebuke them for it. Their work needs us for we are to pay and pray and sit there and shut up and be awed by their greatness in leadership and understanding. When Christ was asked what shall we do to do the works of God He replied as it is recorded in John 6:29; “This is the work of God, that you (yes all of us) believe in Him who He sent.”

How do we manifest the belief in Him?

By doing the things which He did. Great miracles! Sure if its granted to us, but how about preparing ourselves to be a humble loving bride, a daughter of great value. Our Father and Savior/ Husband are watching us, we are in Their sight all the time, and it will be our works that They use to make that decision as to being the bride, wife, mom, for eternity in the household of the Father. Revelation 19:7-8.

“Let us be glad and rejoice and give Him glory, for the marriage of the lamb has come, and His wife has made herself ready (How?) And to her it was granted to be arrayed in fine linen, clean and bright, for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.”

Let’s refresh our memories about God and what He does before we continue.

Isa 55:8-9;

“For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor your ways My ways, says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth. So are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts.”

Romans 11: 33-34;

“Oh, the depth of the riches of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways past finding out! For who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has become His counselor?”

There is only one way that the mind of man, the spirit of man, can understand such things. It needs to be joined with the spirit of God so it can comprehend the things of God.

1 Corinthians 2:11-14,

“For what man knows the things of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him. Even so no one knows the things of God except the spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is from God, that we may know the things which have been freely given to us by God. These things we also speak, not in words which man’s wisdom teaches but which the holy spirit teaches, comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man does not receive the things of the spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him; nor can he know, because they are spiritually discerned.”

So dear brethren when you read such things as we have read about God we need to look at them, judge them, from a spiritual point of view, for we are being taught about the wisdom and knowledge of God. God hates evil. Man says he does but he constantly practices it. In fact he calls good evil and evil good.

When we are defining the love of God we need to look at it in its entirety not just the warm aspects of it which we could list here in page after page. The love of God is not fuzzy, feely, touchy. It is realistic to the spiritual plain of thinking. It is just, merciful, and faithful to the way of God, thus His commandments of conduct. It is encapsulated in the simple phrase; “the love of God is outgoing concern for another.” Unfortunately many do not see that outgoing concern also means freeing someone from a life of evil, full of misery, due to detestable and vile actions. Please do not fall into the whiny, wimpy, little lord Jesus trap. We have been given the spirit of God so that we can understand the wisdom and knowledge of God which is so much higher than that of man. Remember Christ commanded us, “He who says he abides in Him ought himself also to walk just as He walked.”

He laid down His life for us! We in turn are expected to do the same thing, but not just for Him. That can come in many forms. We are commanded to be our brother’s keeper. One example of how that is accomplished is in 1 John 2:9-11.

“He who says he is in the light, and hates his brother, is in darkness until now. He who loves his brother abides in the light, and there is no cause for stumbling in him. But he who hates his brother is in darkness and walks in darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.”

Hating your brother is one of the doctrines being taught by many of the organizations of the great ones. They discourage and even outwardly demand that there be no contact with brethren in other organizations who are outside of their control. They have truly become the overlords that Christ forbids His disciples to imitate.

We live in a time which is obviously just prior to our Saviors return. A simple review and understanding of what will be taking place at that time in the scriptures assures us of that. I don't spend a lot of time discussing such things because there are so many today completely engrossed with such that they have lost their true identity and purpose for being called by the Father. It has become a major deviation to the bride of Christ. Once again Satan knows his trade very well and is the master of disguise and deception. We who are called are in his sights. If he can repackage himself to appear as an angel of light it is no doubt understandable how he can foster the FFT little lord Jesus characterization on the world and also on some who are called of the Father.

Now, how does one hate his brother in Christ? Remember we are thinking on a spiritual plain here not on an earthly plain as in a neighbor or a brother. That is a different thing but all the same important to us all in our doing what Christ did but nowhere near what the world emphasizes, yet does not do. Matthew 25:41-46. Again we are focusing on the spiritual here and thus the body of Christ and those called by the Father.

“Then He will also say to those on His left hand, (Those he-goats which follow after the example of Satan. No coincidence that the source of all sins, Satan, is represented by the he-goat on Atonement who is so filthy that the high Priest needs to wash all his cloths and body after touching him; while the penalty for all the sins of mankind are absorbed by Christ the goat which is sin free on our behalf). Depart from Me, you cursed, into everlasting fire (permanent death) prepared for the devil and his messengers, for I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me no drink; I was a stranger and you did not take Me in, naked and you did not clothe Me, sick and in prison but you did not visit Me! Then they will also answer Him saying, Lord when did we see you hungry or thirsty, or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you? (It is painfully obvious they did not recognize who Christ was for they followed the tenants of a false christ. They hated their spiritual brother because he did not function under their authority and traditions, and thus were looked upon as trash, or competitors to them or any variation of such. That is the case with many of the church organizations.) Then He will answer them, saying, assuredly I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these My brethren, you did not do it to Me. And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

Here we can clearly see a distinction in what some will do towards the body of Christ and what some won't. Here we see that some felt they were doing the will of God but in fact were not. Ezekiel 34 prophesied; “The weak you have not strengthened, nor have you healed those who were sick, nor bound up the broken, nor brought back what was driven away, nor sought what was lost; but with force and cruelty you have ruled them.”

These followers of a false christ, these “worthless shepherds” as Christ calls them, abound today in the churches and in the world. They are deluded and preach a gospel about a false christ. They are often disguised as messengers of light, preaching a worldly version of love to elevate themselves in a false aura of humility and gentleness all the while crushing the sheep. In verse 17 here in Ezekiel we read, “And O My flock, thus says the Lord God: Behold, I shall judge between sheep and sheep (a merciful and just God) and between rams and he-goats.” We need to ask ourselves a simple question. Are we functioning like a mature male sheep, a ram, or as a he-goat? This is a very important question to our calling at this time. He-goats are continually butting the immature sheep and the ewe’s. That is a no-no in both covenants as it should be. We are to be practicing true religion and half of that equation as James tells us is to visit the orphans and widows in their trouble. We are their legal defenders. There are many, many spiritual orphans and widows today in the church organizations who are separated from the Father and the Savior/Husband by lying benefactors who rule them. Do you make an effort to visit them? If so How? There are many ways you could be serving them in their time of trouble.

Did Jesus Christ idle His tongue when He saw this happening? As the saying goes; “Not a chance in hell!”

Let’s review a few of these episodes of our Savior/Husband acting as a ram for the wellbeing of the flock and exposing the he-goats for what they were. Once again remember we are to follow Him, the real Jesus in what He did. We are to walk just as He walked. He did not refrain from doing so in public for fear of offending them or their followers. Matthew 23:1-7.

“Then Jesus spoke to the multitude and to His disciples, saying: The Scribes and the Pharisees have set themselves in Moses seat (God didn’t) Therefore (or that being the case) whatever they tell you to observe (according to the law given through Moses) observe and do, but do not do according to their works (the traditions of the elders); for they say (according to Moses), and do not do (according to Moses).

For they bind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on other men’s shoulders; but they will not move them with one of their fingers. But all their works they do to be seen by men. They make their phylacteries broad and enlarge the borders of their garments. They love the best places at the feasts, the best seats in the synagogues, greetings in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, Rabbi Rabbi (which is a transliteration from Hebrew which means Master Master or as the English abbreviation is today Mr. Mr.).

That is a very public rebuke and indictment of the actions, deeds, and conduct of the religious leaders of His day and in His society. Not very fuzzy, feely, touchy is it. Do you think He offended these “men of god” and perhaps some of their followers? Sure He did! That certainly did not stop Him from doing so did it? Not a chance! I will bet some even felt He was too abrasive with these ungodly comments, for these men felt they were doing the right thing. Maybe His bold actions turned some off from listening to Him anymore; for He came across cruel, harsh, and heartless in their opinion. How could such a one be from God or represent Him. He should have just turned the other cheek right?

Continuing in verse 13; “But woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the kingdom of heaven against men (by their false doctrines); for you neither go in, nor do you allow those who are entering to go in.”

Do we see the gravity of their actions on those who they deceive, who are ruled by them? Do we also recognize Christ was functioning as the weaker ones legal defender? He didn’t care where it took place but obviously was very happy to do so in a very public spectacle. I am sure there were plenty there who felt His rebuke was a bit over the top and even thinking He should tone it down lest He scare prospective brethren away because of His harshness and boldness. Verses 14-15;

“Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites. For you devour widow’s houses, and for a pretense make long prayers (that filthy activity is rampant in many of the “churches of God” today). Therefore you will receive greater condemnation. Woe to you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel land and sea to win one proselyte, and when he is won, you make Him twice the son of hell as yourselves.”

That’s because they want to be a muckity-muck like them and do very ungodly things to prove themselves to them. This is an example of the one extreme. The other is the FFT’s. There needs to be balance.

Matthew 16:11-12;

“How is it you do not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread? You should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrines of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” Their doctrines were full of sinful actions which separated them from God. Just think how some of the little lord Jesus types would respond to Christ’s actions like this today. Actually we don’t have to imagine. They would have nothing to do with the real Jesus Christ, the Son of God the Father, and in fact many don’t, and more are taking up that course of false humility in their own self-righteousness.

The real Christ goes on here in Matthew 23 and calls these religious leaders; blind guides, extortionists, self-indulgent, unrighteous, serpents, and offspring of vipers. No FFT’s to be found in that is there. Christ made it very clear we are not to tolerate such behavior in leaders and certainly not to function as they do. He did not “bridle His tongue” as some would erroneously apply to such behavior but clearly articulated their sinful behavior in public. Who were these folks once again? The religious leaders in Israel, the self-proclaimed shepherds and teachers in Israel! Do we dare to be as bold as Christ was? Do you shy away from such confrontation yet consider yourself a servant in the body, a teacher of the flock, a pastor of the sheep? We all need to think long and hard on such things here at the end of the age when there are so many spiritual orphans and widows abounding, so many sick and imprisoned, so many hungry and thirsty, so many naked, and so many strangers.

Christ certainly was not shy about rebuking the religious leaders who erred in His day while a man walking the earth. It was a normal function of His. He was brutally honest! How about you? He gives us some very sobering instruction in Matthew chapter 7. Let's review it in verses 15-20.

"Beware of false prophets who come in sheep's clothing but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. You will know them by their fruit. Do men gather grapes from thorn bushes, or figs from thistles? Even so every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Therefore by their fruits you will know them." That is instruction for our spiritual wellbeing. It is instructing us on how we are to walk and how we are to judge the walk of others. That's right; there is that dirty word in today's Christianity, judge! But the start of chapter 7 says we are not to judge? Just as the FFT love doctrine has dumbed down many, so has the "do not judge" doctrine done the same. We judge things every waking moment of our lives when we are making decisions. They are nothing more than judgments, discernments. We are to judge between good and evil just as Christ instructed us about good fruit and bad fruit. What we do not do is pronounce condemnation on people. That is Christ's function and His alone. He will dish out the penalty they will need to pay not us, and if repentant, administer His mercy which is without bounds. Our responsibility to ourselves and those in our care is to make a judgment as to good or bad, right or wrong, righteousness and unrighteousness. How do we do that? By applying the biblical patterns of good and bad to them. It is then our responsibility to embrace good and flee evil. But it is also our responsibility to also expose evil in the process. Christ didn't shy away from publically or privately proclaiming religious leaders bad fruit and we are to do the same if it falls into our spheres of influence. We are our brother's keeper in such things.

Let's review some of Christ's reactions to some of the bad fruit. Mark 11:15-18.

"So they came to Jerusalem. And Jesus went into the temple and began to drive out those who bought and sold in the temple, and overturned the tables of the moneychangers and the seats of those who sold doves. And He would not allow anyone to carry wares through the temple. Then He taught saying to them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations! But you have made it a den of thieves (Because they were cheating these they had dealt with and undoubtedly trying to get them to put their offerings to better use by buying from them)." And the Scribes and the chief priests heard it and sought how they might destroy Him; for they feared Him, because all the people were astonished at His teachings."

No little lord Jesus to be found in that. Jesus did not care whether people liked or disliked Him based on what He said to the religious leaders of His day. He did not hesitate to point out their false doctrines and bad behavior. Christ did not utilize the FFT method in addressing any of this kind of behavior and neither should we. Brutally honest is a good description of how He functioned and for a very good reason. He was correcting bad behavior. He was edifying those who were being affected by the bad behavior. He had the best interest of the victims in the forefront. Can and do we walk as He walked in such matters? Remember we are qualifying to be His bride at this time. That means we are to be one with Him. Do we have the strength and concern in us for others to emulate this character trait of our Savior/Husband as well as the softer ones?

Paul tells us in 2 Corinthians 13:5; Examine yourselves whether you are in the faith. Prove (test) yourselves. Do you not know yourselves that Jesus Christ is in you? – unless indeed you are disqualified.”

We all need to come to grips with such things. What was the primary reason for Christ functioning in this way? Many would say to expose evil and error. That is a result of His actions. The reason for doing so is edification through correction. We see our Creator teaching us the difference between right and wrong, good and bad in both; behavior and doctrine. His demeanor was “sharp” because He was using His sword to cut to the chase as the saying goes. He was not displaying hatred for either the perpetrators or the victims but was utilizing the true method of Godly love in dealing with both. Can we see that? His goal was not focused on smashing the deceived religious leaders regardless of what the FFT folks would think. The world does not understand what Godly love in action is. Let’s look at a very simple illustration. If little Johnnie smacks little Tommy in the mouth what would you do? Would you as the adult plead with little Johnnie not to do it again or would you raise the tone of your voice and use the authority you have as an adult to bring about corrective behavior? If that didn’t work would you have it in you to bring it to the next level? What if little Johnnie was teaching little Tommy to behave really bad even to the point of hurting himself or others? What would you do as the adult? Would you correct them both out of hatred or concern? Hopefully concern. That is what Christ did, does, and will do. That correction can at times seem very sharp and very brutal to many, for they have been conditioned in a wrong understanding.

Our Savior/Husband has given us the example we should follow after; to walk just as He walked in such things. He has also given us the means through His spirit dwelling in us. The only hatred involved is for the evil and error in the matter and not toward the perpetrator or the victim. He has given us example after example of Godly love in action, outgoing concern for others. Can we undertake that mindset or have we been laden down with FFT teachings to the point we can’t see such things clearly. The FFT crowd accuses any who would emulate Christ in such things as being judgmental, condemnatory, accusatory, mean spirited, full of hate, and devoid of compassion and love.

Paul tells us the following in 2 Corinthians 13:10; “Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the authority which the Lord has given me for edification and not for destruction.”

Can we see clearly what Paul is teaching us? He would be bold and sharp in correction for the purpose of edification and not destruction. How do you look at such things? We have a choice. Are we mature enough to understand the difference? We need to walk as Christ walked in such matters. Some have said they lack authority to do so. That is a copout. Our authority is simple and pure, for we are our brother’s keeper. Think of it this way, if your fleshly brother or sister were conducting themselves in a manner which could cause harm to themselves or others would you just sit there and not say anything because you somehow thought you lacked authority? I would hope not. You have authority as a brother, as a family member. I would hope you would intervene to point out and hopefully teach them the error of their way and bring them to their senses. The same applies to our spiritual brothers and sisters. That is true love for another and yes at times it can appear to many as being something else if their minds are not focused by and through the spirit of God.

Let’s clarify something here. Just because someone does not function exactly as you function does not mean they deserve a public or private rebuke. Such a rebuke comes when one is teaching or causing harm to the brethren based on Biblical standards. We are instructed in this in the scriptures. We do not get on our high horse because someone is not numbered among us and does not do exactly what we do and how we do it. Many of the organization major in such behavior. Mark 9:38-40;

“Now John answered Him, saying, Teacher, we saw someone who does not follow us (notice, not “You” as in Christ) casting out demons in Your name, and we forbade him (now notice why) because he does not follow us. But Jesus said, do not forbid him, for no one who works a miracle (casting out demons is a miracle) in My name can soon afterwards speak evil of Me. For he who is not against us is on our side.”

This work was a good work and should have been judged on its merits and not by association to oneself. We are to judge such things based on the fruit, the works, and not the package it comes in, or whether we think they are one of us. This man’s actions were not bringing disrepute to the Father or the Son. In fact, they were bringing glory to them. We need to always remember the body of Christ is very diverse with many members unified by one spirit but under one Head. It is the unity of the spirit that we look for and not a following after or likening to ourselves, or in other words those who look just like us.

There is a movement being undertaken by the messengers of the prince of the power of the air, the prince of darkness, creeping across the face of Christianity today. It is headed by the one who calls himself the Vicar of Christ. He is focusing on a doctrine of unity, fellowship, forgiveness, and love, all rolled up into one. He has been commissioned by the devil to unite all those who are his under one banner, which is one shrouded in a false christ. Unfortunately that same movement is infecting some who are called of the Father who are not grounded in a very personal relationship with Christ as their Savior/Husband. Many of these brethren are easily swayed by every wind of doctrine especially if it is presented in the FFT version of love. These doctrines for the most part are designed to have a form of godliness but are empty deceptions. These recent evangelical moves and actions of the Vicar of Christ to call home all the daughters of the harlot have been prophesied long ago so we should not be caught off guard or even unaware. The words being spoken are smooth and soothing to the simple minded who are shallow in the truth of God. They are in fact used to lull brethren to sleep just as they have the great masses who are called Christians. They are surrounded in FFT language such as do not judge, love everyone, be of one fellowship; with the underlying theme and result that unity is more important than truth. They actually teach and stress that FFT love and unity of fellowship is greater than obedience to the laws and commandments of God the Father. It is a syrupy, shallow, emotion driven teaching which is the exact opposite of the love of God which is founded in obedience, clearly visible obedience to the commandments of God. The unity they preach is actually the captivity which will befall all those not holding fast to a personal relationship required by Christ to be numbered among His body at His return. Christ's unity is very different from that which is professed by the mind of man which is influenced by Satan. It is no surprise that his minions are now pushing a full frontal movement of such prior to Christ's return. Christ's love and unity is not of this world.

Luke 12:49-53;

"I came to send fire on the earth, and how I wish it was already kindled! (Please reflect on this. That was His desire when He walked as a man way back 2000 years ago). But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished (no beating around the bush here. He wanted it to end, He was tired of bearing up under it.) Do you suppose that I came to give peace on the earth? (That is what the false christ teaching is saying). I tell you, not at all, but rather division. For from now on five in one household will be divided: (think spiritually here) three against two, and two against three. Fathers will be divided against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."

Brethren that is exactly what is happening in the church organizations today. It is rampant. They all hate each other, are competing with each other, revile each other. It is absolutely disgusting to watch from the outside. We must be thankful to our Father that we are not trapped in it.

However we must be working to help those who are imprisoned in it to get out. What happened to our instructions in Philippians 2:1-4;

"Therefore if there is any consolation (or encouragement) in Christ, if any comfort in love, if any fellowship of the spirit, if any affection and mercy, fulfill my joy by being likeminded, having the same love, of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through selfish ambition or conceit, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself. Let each of you look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others."

Our loving Creator died for us in spite of the fact we are all sinners. He loved His creation so much that He was willing to humble Himself before His eternal friend and companion and for that matter all of creation. He willingly yielded to Him and gave all the glory to Him, the Being we know as the Father. That is so far from the mindset of the men who run the organizations we refer to as "the Church" that we as individuals should be thanking Him daily for setting us free from those delusions of grandeur. Our loving Savior/Husband has given us the example to follow. He believed and trusted that the Father would give Him the strength He would need to be able to remain sin free and fulfill His destiny as the Son, the Lamb of God, and become a worthy and acceptable sacrifice on our behalf and then be returned to the Glory He had with the Father. We need to have that same trust and belief in our Savior/Husband that He too will give us the strength we need to overcome our fleshly existence and receive the gift of eternal life which He has made possible. It took great courage, resolve, and strength, to stand up to sin and reject it as He did. He was in no way wimpish, whining, fuzzy, feely, touchy, in anything and neither should we be. If we are we fall far short of the personal understanding of our calling and of the function we have been called to fill.

Let's get a taste of what He, our Savior/Husband will be like when He returns in the future with His bride at His side.

Revelation 17:14; "These will make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them for He is the Lord of lords and King of kings; and those with Him are; called, chosen, and faithful." He will make war with all that oppose Him at His return. Look who is with Him, those who were called of the Father, chosen by the Son, and who remained faithful unto the end. If we do not know who our Husband is to the point of having such a personal relationship with Him where we will be faithful through this life existence in such a way that He wants us to share eternity with Him as His helpmate in the household of the Father then we will not be there. Are we a whiny, wimpy, example of a false christ? If so we will be told "I never knew you." Here we see the bride accompanying Him to battle. Have we learned how we are to conduct ourselves in battle or have we turned tail and run, or let someone else do the fighting for us. Have we stood firm to protect the other members of our family who have not yet learned how to put on the armor as of yet, or the spiritual widows and orphans who are being abused by the worthless shepherds, or those who are under their dominion who have separated them from Christ and the Father with their deceitful doctrines of dominion over their faith? What about the vast numbers in the church today who are wretched, miserable, poor, blind, and naked, or those who are hungry, thirsty, sick, and strangers? Do we esteem them and their needs more than our own? What would a mom do!!! What is expected of us?

Revelation 19: 11-15 describes to all who are willing to read it the actions of our Husband and of His bride when He returns. Just think, this is the first public actions they will be doing together in the sight of all mankind after the wedding supper has been completed.

“Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse. And He who sat on him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He judges and makes war (imagine that; both judging and making war). His eyes were like a flame of fire, and on His head many crowns. He had a name written that no one knew except Himself. He was clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and His name is called; The Word of God. And the armies in heaven, clothed in fine linen, white and clean followed Him on white horses. Now out of His mouth (not someone else’s) goes a sharp sword, that with it He should strike the nations. And He Himself will rule them with a rod of iron. He Himself treads the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.”

Let’s not forget the Lake of Fire! Verse 20;

“Then the beast was captured and with him the false prophet who worked signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who received the mark of the beast and those who worshipped his image. These two were cast ALIVE into the lake of fire burning with brimstone.” How cruel, how heartless, how merciless of Christ to throw them in alive would be the FFT’s reaction. Let’s not forget verse 21 either;

“And the rest were killed with the sword which proceeded from the mouth of Him (certainly not the little lord Jesus) who sat on the horse. And all the birds were filled with their flesh.”

Dear friends and brethren, is the real Jesus Christ recognized by this world? The answer is no! The vast majority of mankind will rally to fight against Him and His bride when they return to the earth to make war on a future feast of Trumpets. Mankind apart from the spirit of God dwelling in them is not capable of understanding who the real Jesus Christ is. They are easily led astray and dumbed down by the actions of Satan the devil. We all once walked that walk brethren but we should no longer be on that road or anywhere near it. We have been called out of such unbelief by the Father and then granted to grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. That spirit living in us teaches us and strengthens us to walk just as He walked, not only in true humility and love, but also in boldness before others as to the word of God and fighting a spiritual war which is not with flesh and blood. We are to become complete, perfect to our calling and purpose at this time. Some are falling from that in their personal relationship with Christ. Paul reminds us in 1 Corinthians 13:11;

“When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a man, I put away childish things.”

Our calling is not one of sobbing and whining on one another. It is one of outgoing concern in Godly proportions and actions. We are prophesied to do great things; however that greatness is not as the world perceives greatness. That means we are to be putting ourselves in a second position when it comes to the needs of others called of our Father in good times and in bad. Do we really understand what that entails? If we in any way, shape, or form think of Christ in the FFT or wimpy, whiny mode characterizations we are clueless to what we will be doing to qualify to be His eternal helpmate in our works today. Once again think about His statements we covered earlier. Those who think they were functioning as He did are rejected by Him.

With the spirit of God dwelling in us we are to have a clear understanding as to the way and walk of God. That does not mean we are all going to be doing the very same thing as scripture after scripture tells us. BUT! We will share one very common trait and command and all will know us by it. John 13: 34, "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; AS I HAVE LOVED YOU, that you also love one another."

The scriptures are full of Christ's examples of how He loved us. There is no need for me to recite them for I am sure we are all well aware of them. True outgoing concern for others is unmistakable when we look to the actions, the works, and not the lip service. Our ears may be fooled but not our spiritual eye by such things, for as the saying goes, "actions speak louder than words." Thus we are to judge such things by their fruits as we were instructed by Christ earlier. If one speaks in the language of love and functions in the work of dominion over you then you know you have a deceitful fruit on your hands. Satan loves dominion whether overt or covert; however he does prefer it to be overt so he gets his warped recognition. We give him recognition but not in the way he likes for we see him as a liar and a murderer and the source of all evil. Do we present him as such in our understanding and our actions? Are we afraid or timid of publically displaying our faith and understanding in and of God?

Look to the apostle Paul as an example in such times in his walk with Christ. He tells us to imitate him as he imitates Christ. He was very bold in speaking publically about the hope which was in him. As well, he was very bold in openly warning the brethren about those who would pervert the truth of God as to the plan of salvation. He would name them by name in fact. He didn't care what they or their following thought about him. It did not hinder his speaking boldly about it. I have been told I need to tone it down in such times. Not a chance! It has been suggested we wait until a time when it will be really important like standing up to the beast power. I have bold news for those who think that is the case. We read about it earlier in Matthew and elsewhere about our responsibilities to the brethren right now.

Let's share a little heart to heart time at this point. I will use myself as an example so we may get a better understanding of what I am talking about. I hope you the reader can see the difference.

I have made it plain what I feel about those who teach that Christ was never a God Being. That is a deep and filthy heresy that turns the listener from the plan of salvation. Those who teach and preach such abominable filth need to be publically warned and exposed. That is why I have written about it at length in the past and spent thousands of dollars of my money, not someone else's, exposing the darkness of it. If you read those articles on the site you will certainly come away with the feeling that I find such things pure vomit and exceedingly evil whether you agree with what I say or not. I warn brethren to flee that doctrine of Satan with all the speed they can. There should be no fellowship with one who promotes a one god being doctrine for it is full of incest and commandment breaking in its very nature as is explained in the article; the one-god being doctrine is a perverted doctrine about a false christ.

On the other hand I write or have written extensively about the Calendar of God, specifically why I follow the Abib/New Moon Calendar and not the Rabbinical Calendar. I do not use this understanding to separate myself from those who do differently. I do not demand others do the same. Why? Because that is a personal decision in my growing in grace and knowledge of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The other is I used to keep what they keep and was still blessed in my life in Christ as I understood at the time. In fact in many ways I was blessed beyond measure then and now. People have asked me why I even keep feast days with brethren on the Rabbinical Calendar days not the same as the Abib/New Moon days. The answer is very simple; I love them dearly and want to share time in fellowship with them for they are called of the Father. He has made us brothers and sisters. We share almost everything else in common, or being of the same mind. They or I are not so weak in our faith that we are intimidated by each other in such things. We do not try to convert each other to our way of thinking on the few differences we hold. If asked to give a defense for the hope which is in us we for the most part can all do it without anger, envy, or any bickering at all. That my dear brethren is maturity in the faith. But declaring such things as Christ not being the God Being of the first covenant scriptures and the husband of Israel who laid down His life so that the number of His bride could be completed and then forgiven her sins is such a deep and dirty heresy I want to expose it for all it is. It is a plan of salvation changer! It is a lie so deeply diabolical that it separates one who believes it from both the Father and the Son so that they become a spiritual widow and fatherless child or worst.

I feel sorry for those who do not see a difference in such things. They are usually full of the FFT's which is a false love. I think I have written often that to get my spiritual bearings I often turn to the description of the 7 churches of Revelation and the letters to the Corinthians. Have you ever counted the different doctrines and practices housed in the Corinthian Church? Please do so some time and then identify which ones Paul corrected them on vigorously and the ones he did not. It can and will be a real eye opener if you have not done so in the past. For instance there were some in Corinth who held the belief that the resurrection was over. Paul went on to explain to the church the folly of such thinking but he did not command the brethren to separate from those who thought this. Paul addressed the same type of confused thinking and actions contrary to the second covenant Passover. Some were keeping a seder repackaged as "The Lords Supper" which Paul so clearly explains. He did not in any way suggest they separate because of this but that they should change their ways. Another simple one is women and head coverings in services. He addressed this from several perspectives and then summed it all up as follows in 1 Corinthians 11:16;

“But if anyone seems to be contentious (because of that silly teaching) we have no such custom, nor do the churches of God.”

For all the different teachings they had as a church he replies in 11:18-19 as follows.

“For first of all, when you come together as a church, I hear there are divisions among you, and in part I believe it. For there must also be factions among you, that those who are approved may be recognized (made manifest) among you.”

Yes there is a purpose for it. He didn't command them to separate because of such things because they had not been elevated to the status of sin. They were looked upon as different knowledge, however unfounded it was biblically speaking. The arrogance of many today would be to split immediately over such things. We are not talking about filthy heresies here. We are talking about people who are at different levels of understanding and who are in some cases falling to some persuasive cajoling of others. It reminds me of old wives tales as the saying goes. Paul certainly addressed a filthy sinful activity much different didn't he when it came to the sexual immorality of one of their members. That same action covers a damnable heresy that contains such filth. Once again that is why I treat such doctrines as the one-god doctrine as I do.

We can also look at the actions contained in the 7 churches of Revelation. To say they housed diverse doctrines is an understatement. But which ones did Christ emphasis as darkness being exposed which pleased Him? He commended some of their actions and rebuked others. A quick example in Revelation 2:2.

“I know your works, your labor, your patience, and that you cannot bear those who are evil. And you have tested those who say they are apostles and are not, and have found them to be liars.” Now are we to suppose they did this under a bushel? Oh no, it was clearly in the open. Opposing those who claim to have been apostles is still a continuing action of ours. It isn't conducted behind closed doors. These brethren were bold in that activity and were praised by Christ for it. When we read through the prevailing conditions in the seven churches we see a lot of praiseworthy activities and a lot which are not. We are all to judge in such matters and to respond and act as Christ would have and Paul set a good example in doing so.

We are not only to house boldness in Christ but we are also expected to use it from time to time regardless of what anyone else thinks. He did that very thing and so did the apostles. Unfortunately many have been told they are not in a position to do so and are just dumb little sheep who need to be led along instead of developing as a ram, a mature sheep, who is willing to stand up for the brethren as well as for the word of God.

We are all part of a greater family. We will not all see things the same way now but we will when Christ returns. But we can be of the same mind in Christ as to what is important for salvation. That is the free gift offered by God because we can't earn it for Christ did that for us. However it will not be given if we are disobedient to the Fathers household rules. Do not be deceived in thinking otherwise. What is not free to all is what we have been called to at this time in the plan of salvation. Not only is it not free it is only offered to a relatively small number in the grand scheme of things. We are called to qualify for the number three function in the family of God the Father. That is not a shallow thing. It is an awesome undertaking by the Creators. It isn't for everyone. You have been called to that purpose. Satan is doing everything he can to deceive you from that truth. It is not based on a free gift premise as salvation is, but on the premise of righteous works, a calling with a reward. Do we believe that? If so what are we doing about it that will convince the Father and the Son we are willing to lay down our lives for our fellow brethren. If you think laying low now and waiting for the right time is the solution you are horribly mistaken. I often read Proverbs 31:10-31 to see exactly what my Savior/Husband expects of me. It's a lot of work in serving the family in love. True working love based on the commandments of God not some satanic FFT version which has captured the minds of men devoid of the spirit of God.

I am not afraid to judge in matters such as these which we have discussed. We are all commanded to do so. I use the patterns in the bible as my witnesses in doing that. They are the precepts I follow to give me insight and testimony into a particular subject or decision to be made. There are many winds of doctrine blowing around today, some are unto death and some are not. Some are innocent error and confusion and some are not. We need to judge between them as Paul instructed the Corinthians to do. However there are times which are not so pleasantly dealt with.

"For I know this that after my departure savage wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock. Also from among yourselves men will rise up, speaking perverse things to draw away the disciples after themselves."

My memory is still fresh as to the filthy angels of light who rose up in the WCG and did that very thing. It is still going on today in many organizations and groups. None of us, no not one should be seeking a following or looking at the brethren as a meal ticket. We are to be following Christ and no other. We are to be making our own living so that we can assist in supporting those in the body with earthly things needed for ones wellbeing who are not capable to do so due to injury or great age. That does not mean there is not a need for pastors who can be supported by the church to conduct pastoral responsibilities. I am not one of them for I am not a pastor. Paul warned us through the Thessalonians that a very strong delusion would descend on the body because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they may be saved. We must not fall for the unrighteous deception of a false christ regardless of what shape or form it is presented to us in. That happens when our relationship with our Savior/Husband is weakened by another being allowed to step in between us and whisper falsehoods into our minds. That is what happened to mother Eve. It will not happen to the second Eve and thus the need for a qualifying process of time to bear it out. We need to spend time every day of our lives with our Husband speaking to us and us speaking to Him. He speaks to us in scriptures and us to Him in prayer. That is what gives us the strength to discern and judge in matters in a Godly way. We can expose darkness in many ways. It can be done publically and privately. Publically when it involves an elder or one who considers himself to be one regardless of the sin they are committing or fostering on the brethren in their sphere of influence.

1 Timothy 5:19-20;

“Do not receive an accusation against an elder except from two or three witnesses. Those who are sinning rebuke in the presence of all, that the rest also may fear.”

That is just one of many examples and instructions we are to follow.

An example of privately is when talking about one of the brethren as in James 5:19-20;

“Brethren if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone turns him back, let him know that he who turns a sinner from the error of his way will save a soul from death and cover a multitude of sins.”

Either case there is a boldness and real humility in Christ which needs to be displayed.

Thoughtful platitudes don't cut it and hiding under a bushel will bring a real bad judgment upon the one doing so who is capable of knowing better. The circumstances will determine the venue as being public or private. I have a deep concern for all the churches. Useless doctrines of the great ones are continuing to separate brethren. We hear the fevered pitches growing; I am of United, I am of COGWA, I am of Living, I am of Philadelphia, I am of Restored. Plug in any name you wish for there are undoubtedly many others with more being added all the time. This type of useless mind control separates brethren from Christ and builds rivalries and contentions and above all hatred for others. Please repeat to yourself over and over again; I am of Christ, I am of Christ, and develop a one on one relationship with Him and a result of that will be a deep and abiding love for the rest of His body wherever they may be found, even to the least of them in the sight of the great ones. Please remember we are not only being offered the free gift of salvation which does have conditions, but we are also at this time called to function as the bride, the mother, in the household of the Father. That is a very detailed loving function which will be recognizable to the Father and our Savior/Husband by our actions, by our works. To make that a reality we must put on the mind of Christ. To do that we need to know Him intimately and do what He did in boldness, in humility, in mercy, in love, in compassion, in laying down our lives for the called of the Father. It is not just enough to be called, for we still need to be chosen by Christ, and then remain faithful to Him unto the end.

As scripture declares to us; there is no other way or means to salvation without going through Jesus the Christ. Satan knows this and is doing everything he is allowed to do to present a false Christ to this confused world. We have the responsibility to proclaim a gospel about the real Jesus Christ. How are you doing on that score personally?

Lots to think about brethren. Do we in fact understand who and what the real Jesus Christ was, is, and will be; as a man and in His fullness and Glory? Can we identify the real Jesus Christ! Do we in fact function as He did, does, and will?

Our peace we give to you.
